

Tygart's Valley has several. We are hopeful that all these vacancies soon will be supplied. We are now in correspondence with several good men, who will, if they accept the fields offered, materially reduce the number of our vacancies. And then for the undeveloped fields lying about us almost without end.

Presbytery in the Mountain State.

White Sulphur and Salem: Rev. I. S. McElroy, Jr., just graduated from Union Seminary, Richmond, will come to these churches as pastor early in June.

Milton: Rev. D. H. Coman, until recently of North Carolina, has been installed pastor of this church. He is the first pastor the church at Milton has ever had. The prospects for both church and pastor are very bright.

Williamson: Rev. John W. Carpenter, for ten years pastor of the church at Maiden, W. Va., will at an early date take charge of the Williamson Presbyterian church as pastor. Both these churches being in Kanawha Presbytery he will retain his position as chairman of Home Missions in that Presbytery.

Glenville, Coal Valley and Sand Fork: This group of churches in Gilmer County, on Little Kanawha River, and in Tygart's Valley Presbytery, hopes soon to secure the services of a settled pastor. A minister, tried and true from another State, will come to survey this field, with a view to a settlement, during the month of June.

Pleasant Plains: This is a delightful country church, situated in a prosperous farming community down in the Ohio Valley. Rev. J. F. Baxter, pastor at Point Pleasant, has charge of this church. A meeting of a few days, in which the pastor was assisted by the Synodical Superintendent, Rev. R. M. Hall, and Ruling Elder Virgil L. Hall, of the Milton church, who conducted the music, has recently been held. Much interest developed. Several confessed Christ as their Saviour, but it was necessary to close the meeting at least a week too soon, so it is proposed, God willing, to continue the work some time next fall.
